and decreases over time of particular species - both in terms of their abundance and at how many sites towns destroyed during the liberation campaign in world war ii, especially in central and northern luzon, were rebuilt using wood